EXAMINER'S AMENDMENT

1. An examiner's amendment to the record appears below. Should the changes and/or additions be unacceptable to applicant, an amendment may be filed as provided by 37 CFR 1.312. To ensure consideration of such an amendment, it MUST be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee.

The application has been amended as follows:

In claim 18, delete the status identifier "Currently Amended" and insert --New--.

2. The following is an examiner's statement of reasons for allowance:

As discussed in the interview conducted November 9, 2005, Lipson fails to disclose or fairly suggest displaying a corresponding vertical movement effecting movement of the bat character from said one displayed position to said another displayed position within the strike zone during a bunting operation. The examiner believes this limitation distinguishes over Lipson. Although Lipson allows a player to alter the height of the bat character during a normal swing, Lipson does not explicitly disclose displaying a movement of a bat character from one position to another position within the strike zone during a bunting operation.

Additionally, newly discovered prior art, Triple Play 2000 and Triple Play 2001, allow a player to control a batter and batter character during a bunting operation in a baseball game on a computer via a pointing device (computer mouse). However, like Lipson, Triple Play 2000 and Triple Play 2001 fails to disclose or fairly suggest displaying a corresponding vertical movement effecting movement of the bat character from said one displayed position to said another displayed position within the strike zone during a bunting operation.
